RockSkool definitely knows how to Rock! These five talented and professional musicians have decades of combined performing experience. They are experts at performing a huge catalog of songs – so the entertainment seems to go on forever!

The group's front-man, Randy Monroe, gets crowds singing, dancing, and cheering for more. Skilled in three octaves, he is a classically trained baritone and tenor. Since 1999 he has also been the lead vocalist and co-founder of HOT FOR TEACHER: the Van Halen Experience; an industry favorite! Randy proudly possesses a Master of Science and is an award-winning middle school science teacher and scientist. A powerhouse with soul, he understands the science of rocks, and ROCK!

Shredding guitarist Terry Lauderdale handles the lead guitar riffs with impeccable timing and finesse. Terry began playing and performing at an early age while studying classically. Influenced by the world's leading hard rocking guitar gods, Terry became a virtuoso and subsequent tremolo master; who continues to dazzle and make a lasting impact on audiences everywhere. Giving his time to teach other aspiring guitarists, Terry has taught guitar lessons for his high school's music program and he continues to tutor privately still. Over the years, he has shared stages with many rock stars and performs regularly with HOT FOR TEACHER; which he co-founded with Monroe.

Double-duty keyboardist & rhythm guitarist David von Holder is a master of sound, programming and performance. His skill on the keys holds RockSool's sonic wall in place; and his tight, melodic rhythms on the guitar help set the tone. David is highly regarded for his intricate backing tracks and exacting score design. He has shared his joy of music with countless students over 20 years as a music teacher.

Percussionist professional, Eddie Studebaker, drives the band with infectious drum beats that make crowds bob and groove. Playing since he was young, by 1983, he began working with Jefferson Starship vocalist and guitarist Marty Balin. Ed was later managed from 1985-87 by the late industry powerhouse Bill Graham in the David Elan Band. In 1996 Ed's calling and future was foreshadowed when he joined The Drew Browne Band which later morphed into the Van Halen tribute Panama. But it was in early 2005, that Ed joined Monroe and Lauderdale in HOT FOR TEACHER and they found him to be a perfect fit for RockSkool as well.

Bassist Jesse Scott keeps the groove rolling and the bass thumping. An accomplished conductor and musical director, Jesse has a number of graduate degrees in music. He has toured both Europe and the entire United States after winning a concerto competition for the Marin Symphony. He has recorded with the Taipei Symphony on the "live" Air Supply album "Now and Forever" and later performed with the Boston Philharmonic. In 1999, he began his career teaching music before joining Panama with Ed. In late 2005, Jesse followed Ed in joining the ranks of Randy & Terry in HOT FOR TEACHER as well as RockSkool.

RockSkool is capable of performing any and all requested material at a competitive price. Their incredible vocal harmonies are alone worth the price of admission! The band is based out of Northern California and has individually – and collectively – performed in virtually every type of venue. Large events such as outdoor festivals, fairs, stadiums, and casinos are perfect for RockSkool's big sound and stage presence. Whether your event is in a nightclub, winery, casino, fair, festival, concert hall, or a private party – RockSkool is ready!

Fun, exciting, professional, and ready to Rock!

*RockSkool band mates Randy, Terry, Eddie, and formerly Jesse are also known for their dazzling performances as HOT FOR TEACHER – The Van Halen Experience.
