

RockSkool

RockSkool plays the 80's rock music the way you remember — bringing your favorite rockin' music memories to life! Uniting a number of eras and styles, RockSkool provides fun and exciting Rock-n-Roll for any event. Wild hair, bandanas, hot chicks, and spandex aside — these talented musicians perform every variation of rock music from the 80's that get audiences dancing and singing along. Fans will have grins on their faces and their arms in the air!

RockSkool is entertainment for both the young and the old. Whether you are planning an entire fun day event, a family affair, or a hot night-time party — RockSkool will bring the sound and energy of everyone's favorite songs to life.

This band can help your entertainment experience be a seamless and enjoyable event. Utilizing their own sound, own equipment, and lighting — they make planning and set up a breeze for small to mid-size venues. For events of a larger scale, professional stage services can be provided by a variety of friendly vendors with competitive pricing.

RockSkool definitely knows how to Rock! These five talented and professional musicians have decades of combined performing experience. They are experts at performing a huge catalog of songs — so the entertainment seems to go on forever!

The group's front-man and leader Randy Monroe, gets crowds singing, dancing, and cheering for more. Skilled in three octaves, he is a classically trained baritone with an added tenor ability. Randy proudly possesses a Master of Science and is an award-winning middle school science teacher and scientist. A fan of jazz and all the subsequent styles to follow, he is vocal powerhouse with soul and an innate ability to voice a multitude of artists. He both understands and is passionate about the geometry of music and the science of geology; thus RockSkool! Randy is also the founder and lead vocalist for HOT FOR TEACHER: the Van Halen Experience; formed in 1999 and an industry favorite!

Shredding guitarist Matt Blackett handles the lead guitar riffs with impeccable timing and finesse. He has been a guitarist, instructor, writer, and music industry consultant for many years (okay, 40 and counting). As a player, Matt has toured the world and had his guitar playing appear in movies, TV shows, and international radio playlists. As a writer, Matt served as associate editor at Guitar Player magazine for 15 years, doing landmark interviews with Brian May, Jeff Beck, Alex Lifeson, and many others. The music business has not killed Matt's love for music, and he plays guitar every day and is currently the Director of Market Development for Ever Tune.

Double-duty keyboardist & rhythm guitarist David von Holder is a master of sound, programming and performance. His skill on the keys holds RockSkool's sonic wall in place; and his tight, melodic rhythms on the guitar help set the tone. David is highly regarded for his intricate backing tracks and exacting score design. He has shared his joy of music with countless students over 20 years as a music teacher.

Bassist Brooks Lundy keeps the groove rolling, the bass thumping and the back up harmonies angelic. An accomplished professional musician ie:STUNG the well known tribute to the Police, he has been playing and performing covers for decades on either bass or guitar; this giving him the foundation to be a critical component in production and direction the "RockSkool" sound!

The drums are kept fresh and tight by percussionist professional John Linn. His decades of drum study evoke each song's stellar meter bashing vibe and combined with his backing vocals bring about an album voicing authenticity you can hear, see and feel. From the endless list of classic tunes – RockSkool will get you, too!

RockSkool is capable of performing any and all requested material at a competitive price. Their incredible vocal harmonies are alone worth the price of admission! The band is based out of Northern California and has individually – and collectively – performed in virtually every type of venue. Large events such as outdoor festivals, fairs, stadiums, and casinos are perfect for RockSkool's big sound and stage presence. Whether your event is in a nightclub, winery, casino, fair, festival, concert hall, or a private party – RockSkool is ready!

Fun, exciting, professional, and ready to Rock!

*RockSkool band mates Randy, Terry, Eddie, and formerly Jesse are also known for their dazzling performances as HOT FOR TEACHER – The Van Halen Experience. Considered one of the music industry's favorite Van Halen acts, it became apparent through their annual NAMM performances. HOT FOR TEACHER was also voted Best Tribute Band 2008 by the readers of Northern California's East Bay Express.
